Does Southwest Airlines Still Charge a Change Fee in 2026?

No -- Southwest Airlines permanently eliminated change fees on standard Economy, Premium Economy, Business, and First Class domestic and international tickets. This change, implemented in 2020-2021, remains in effect in 2026. The only fare class that cannot be changed is Wanna Get Away. However, 'no change fee' does not mean 'free.' You may still owe a fare difference if the new flight is priced higher than your original ticket. Understanding the distinction between change fees and fare differences is critical to accurately estimating your total cost. Call 1-833-567-5798 for an instant fee assessment on your specific ticket.

What Is the Difference Between a Change Fee and a Fare Difference?

A change fee was a flat penalty charged by the airline simply for making any modification to your booking -- typically $150-$200 per change regardless of the new flight price. Southwest Airlines has eliminated this fee. A fare difference is the gap between what you originally paid and what the new flight costs at the time you make the change. If your original ticket was $300 and the new flight is $400, you pay $100 fare difference -- but zero change fee. If the new flight costs $250, you owe nothing and receive a $50 travel funds. The fare difference is not a penalty -- it is simply the market price adjustment.

1-833-567-5798 -- Change fee = $0. Fare difference = market price gap. Call to check yours.

How Much Does Same-Day Flight Change Cost on Southwest Airlines?

Southwest Airlines offers two same-day change options with different costs. Same-Day Standby is completely free on all fare classes including Wanna Get Away. You are placed on a waitlist and board a different same-day departure if a seat opens. No cost, but no guarantee. Same-Day Confirmed Change guarantees you a seat on a specific different flight departing the same day. This costs $0 (free on all fares). However, free for all passengers receive same-day confirmed changes for free. If you are not sure which option to choose, call 1-833-567-5798 -- the agent can check seat availability on the next departure and recommend whether standby is likely to work or whether a confirmed change is worth the cost.

1-833-567-5798 -- Same-day standby = free. Confirmed = $0 (free on all fares). Call to check seat availability.
